Transportation Award Winners Shine

In June CTF hosted the 22nd Annual Transportation Awards, recognizing excellence in transportation projects, programs, people and organizations, all modes from all regions of the state. More than 300 people cheered on their favorite of the top three contenders in each of 17 categories. Awards were presented in Freeway, Transit, Bicycle Pedestrian, Elected Officials, Organization and many more. The overall Project of the Year was the amazing Robert Schroder Pedestrian/Bicycle Bridge, also called the Ironhorse Trail Bridge in Contra Costa County.

The Transportation Awards were made possible in large part by our sponsors including ARUP, our Platinum Sponsor; and Berg & Associates, Flatiron, and T.Y. Lin International, our Gold Sponsors. To view the winning projects and programs and see the rest of our wonderful sponsors go to our website www.transportationfoundation.org.

CTF Supports Fallen Workers

To make a donation to the families of the three Caltrans employees killed in the line of duty in 2011 go to www.transportationfoundation.org then send us an email explaining how you want the donation applied. You may also contribute to the Fallen Worker Fund to support the next family in crisis, the Fallen Worker Scholarship Fund, or CTF in general.

Transportation Education Symposium Convenes in Long Beach

The Transportation Education Symposium brings together 36 of the best and brightest university students with top notch professionals for two days of mentoring, role playing, learning and having a great time. Don’t miss this opportunity to share what you know with the next generation of transportation leaders. To sponsor the Symposium go to our website, www.transportationfoundation.org. Over the years the event has earned incredible reviews. Here are a few:

“If you want to be in the transportation filed, GO TO THE SYMPOSIUM!!!”
   Emad Elias, CSU Long Beach

“The Symposium is life changing. It provided me with skills I wouldn’t find anywhere else.”
   Thomas Wong, UC Berkeley

“The Symposium was one of the best events I have attended in college.”
   Jake Roths, Santa Clara University

“Still the premier student-focused event in the transportation industry.”
   Jeff Bingham, Parsons

“This wonderful event allowed me to make a connection with future generations and re-charge my own excitement.”
   Christine Cox Kovacevich, Caltrans District 6

17th Annual CTF Transportation Education Symposium
Queen Mary Hotel in Long Beach Harbor

Don’t miss this opportunity to mentor the next generation of transportation leaders.

This event is limited to seventy people, half are undergraduate students majoring in transportation engineering or planning. That leaves only thirty-five places for professionals from all the fields of transportation.

Students take home advice from two days of mentoring and learning from real world transportation leaders – we hope including you.

Professionals often report this event to be their favorite transportation conference of the year. Look for invitation in the mail soon.
